PUBLICATION DESCRIPTION

Aviation Maintenance Magazine is the established, leading global MRO journal. Launched in 1983, it reports on news, techniques and technological advances across all aviation sectors including principally commercial, military, business jets, helicopters and general aviation.

It has become a 'must read' those responsible for planning and delivering maintenance, from senior executives who manage aircraft fleets, to those responsible for maintenance facilities and even individuals who want to follow the latest developments in aircraft maintenance.

Its international circulation reaches out not only to traditionally established markets in North America and Europe, but increasingly to the growing MRO regions in the Middle East, Asia, Eastern Europe and South America.
